As the Managing Director of Hinstan Events, Archana has set new standards for excellence in event management, demonstrating her visionary approach in organizing high-profile events that capture the essence of culture, innovation, and purpose.

Her career, however, extends far beyond the logistical aspects of events.

Archana has established herself as a renowned model, actress, international anchor motivational speaker, andphilanthropist.captivating audiences with her charisma, poise, and the powerful messages she delivers.

Through her work in entertainment and public speaking, she continues to touch lives and inspire individuals from all walks of life.

Her success in the public eye is matched by her profound commitment to philanthropy. Archana has made significant contributions as a Peace Ambassador for the Afghanistan Consulate in Mumbai, where she worked tirelessly to promote peace, unity, and understanding on a global scale. Her humanitarian spirit knows no bounds, and her passion for making the world a better place is seen in every endeavor she undertakes.

A true Women  ofSubstance , Archana's achievements have been celebrated internationally. She was crowned Woman of Substance and Women of Distinction at the prestigious MWI Beauty Pageant USA and Women of Substance Lamborghini Italy, a recognition of her grace, intellect, and inner strength. She has garnered over 400 plus national and international awards for her outstanding contributions across various fields, including being honored on three separate occasions by the hands of Governors of Maharashtra, a clear testament to her unwavering dedication and influence.

In addition to these accolades, she has been honored by the Ministry of Environment Maharashtra for her work towards environmental sustainability and by the Maharashtra Police Department, receiving the Pramaan Patra in acknowledgment of her remarkable services.

Her impact is also felt through her recognition by the CISF (Central Industrial Security Force), the world's largest industrial security force, under the Ministry of Home Affairs.

Archana's global influence is highlighted by her role as a Global Ambassador for the Nelson Mandela Tribute Book, House of Commons UK, where she joins the ranks of only 700 distinguished personalities worldwide, including the likes of President Barack Obama, British Prime Minister Tony Blair, Anne Frank, and Sir Paul McCartney, to pen a tribute message in honor of Nelson Mandela. This recognition underscores her tireless work in advocating for global change and unity, reinforcing her position as a beacon of hope and inspiration in a complex world.

Her dedication to education and empowerment is equally impressive. As a Brand Ambassador for numerous educational institutions and magazines, she is committed to raising awareness and empowering youth through knowledge. Additionally, her service as the National Secretary and Brand Ambassador for Anti Corruption Organisation recognised by government and National General Secretary for the Global Film and Television Artist Federation demonstrates her commitment to fostering a vibrant and inclusive creative community.

Notably, Archana has received an honorary Doctorate from Brazil, further adding to her long list of accolades that highlight her leadership, innovation, and contributions to global society.

But perhaps one of her most important missions is her fight against cervical and breast cancer, where she has empowered and educated over three lakh women and girls in both rural and urban areas.

This cause is very close to her heart, and she is determined to ensure that every woman, regardless of her background, has access to education and healthcare in order to fight these preventable diseases.

In addition to these accomplishments, Archana has also been honored by the Queen Mary's Technical Institute for Differently Abled Soldiers, a fitting recognition of her ongoing support and advocacy for those who have given so much in service to their country.

Ms. Archana Sharma stands as a powerful example of what it means to use one's platform for the greater good, bridging gaps between industries, cultures, and communities to build a more just and equitable world.
